YOUNG REPUBLICANS ENDORSE MARK REED FOR CONGRESS

California, (March 18, 2010) – The Young Republican Federation of California and the San Fernando Valley Young Republicans have endorsed Mark Reed for Congress in California's 27th Congressional District.

"With Congressional spending at an all time high, there is nothing more important than preserving the future economic viability of America. As the nation recovers from current economic woes, we cannot mortgage the future, burying the youth in insurmountable debt. Mark Reed is a fiscal conservative who will fight to restore the nation by bringing jobs back to California, keeping taxes affordable, and returning the budget to sustainable levels so there will be a future for Young Americans to inherit. The Young Republican Federation of California is proud to endorse Mark Reed for the 27th Congressional District." - Adam Abrahms, Chair YRFC

"The San Fernando Valley Young Republicans are proud to offer our endorsement to Mark Reed. We see him as a strong candidate who will uphold the core values of his constituents in the 27th district. Mark is exactly the type of representative we need in Washington today. As a small businessman he understands the importance of fiscal responsibility and we believe that once Mark is elected he will apply this skill to help streamline our government. As Young Republicans it is important to us to support candidates who take a serious interest in repairing our government for us and for future generations. Mark Reed is one of those candidates." - Alyssa Selogie, Chair SFVYR

Mark is a descendant of the Mohawk and Apache, mixed with German, English, Spanish and French. After graduation from El Camino Real High School in 1975, Reed studied Architectural Drafting at Pierce Jr. College. Mark is a successful actor, activist and small businessman. After working in management positions for several years, he bought his first company at age 26 and opened a small retail store. He sold both and bought out his second company at age 32.

Mark believes what John Adams said, "There are two ways to enslave a nation. One is by arms. The other is by debt." He has a strong belief in fixing our education system, establishing a strong border policy, prison reform, addressing the climate-hoax; find a common sense solution to health care without government take-over along with many other strong conservative issues.

"I want to keep my children free. I'm running for Congress to restore fiscal discipline. I'd welcome your help". – Mark Reed
